Description of maintenance work on the carrier
7.10 Carrier hydraulic system

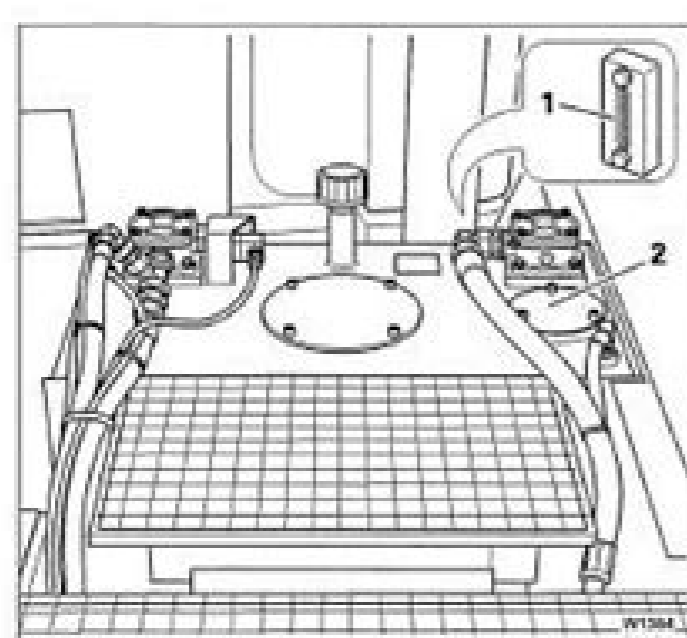

7.10 Carrier hydraulic system

7.10.1 Checking the hydraulic oil level

D

The hydraulic oil tank is on the left-hand side of the carrier behind the driver's cab.
The level can be checked through the inspection glass.

- To check the oil level:
- the truck crane must be in a position on-road driving (see Operating manual, Chapter Driving with the truck crane, Section Vehicle height leveling);
 - the outrigger beams and cylinders must be retracted (see Operating instructions, Chapter Rigging work, Section Outrigger).

- Check the level of the hydraulic oil tank through the inspection glass (1). The hydraulic oil must be visible in the centre of the inspection glass.
- If the level is too low:
- Top up the hydraulic oil through the filler opening (2). Only use hydraulic oil that is specified in the Maintenance plan, p. 5-4.

Be careful not to damage the hydraulic system!
When handling hydraulic oil cleanliness is imperative!
New oil must also be filtered.
